

Spider Rock Promotion is proud to deliver the world an exclusive preview of the new album by Vanexa: two songs will anticipate "Too Heavy To Fly", due out in February 2016, after more than twenty years since "Against The Sun", with Roberto Tiranti on vocals.

The new work will confirm NWOBHM roots, but its heavy rock is renewed with a modern sound and an arid groove that has been renamed Desert Metal. All has been made possible thanks to influences brought by the new members of the band: Vanexa, in addition to Artan Selishta (recognizable for his impeccable style in the Balkan play guitar), have completed the guitar sound with Pier Gonella. The difficult responsibility to replace the voice of Roberto Tiranti has been given to Andrea "Ranfa" Ranfagni, a vocalist that integrates into the best Vanexa line-up ever. The single "Too Heavy To Fly" will be available for Christmas in all digital stores.

Do not miss it!
